it depends on urgency, number of pages. how about being charged 30$ per page?

If possible, I would pay for the abstract just to see the quality of the work. How much would just the abstract cost?

let me help see the topics from which you are to choose from

Antony gitonga <antony8297@gmail.com>

Sat, Nov 29, 2014 at 2:05 AM make it 30$. instead of paying for an abstract. i would prefer a situation where, you make a small deposit. then i'll be sending the paper in drafts starting with abstract page.

$30, okay.

The purpose of the degree is to show either that theatrical media (films) have answered scientific questions or that scientific questions have been developed from theatrical media. I have three possible topics (only choose one):

Show proof we only use 10% of our brain using characters from the films Prometheus, The Butterfly Effect, and Natural Born Killers.

Show correlates of race and intelligence using Mamma Mia as a case study with support from research with Watanabe rabbits.

Find biological correlates of inherent men and women differences using Titanic and Avatar as case studies.

Please let me know where to send money. Can I send half now and half after I receive the abstract page?

i prefer this topic:

Find biological correlates of inherent men and women differences using Titanic and Avatar as case studies.

as for the money, i have a paypal id send cash to my paypal id:
gitonga8297@gmail.com

another thing, send me the paper instructions, time frames, and attachments if any. then state the number of pages & paper format.
thanks.

The paper has no set length. I need to accurately show men and women differences within the movies Titanic and Avatar with biological reasons as to why men and women act the way they do.

If I send $15, would you send me a watermarked abstract? Then I'll send the other $15 for the unmarked version?

Really, that is all. Find differences in male and female characters and interactions within Titanic and Avatar and use biological theories in sex differences to explain the differences within the movie characters.

It's day time here in Nairobi, &my day is a bit relaxed. Make a point of reading through the proposed abstract , & comment on it. If you feel my writing is matching your expectations, give me the go ahead. Writing would never be possible without communication from customers. Thanks. reply soon.

Best Regards,
Antony.

no you dont have, just do this. give me the project, make a deposit of 750$ then i'll hand in your assignment in parts. i also realized that the abstract was not in line. it had been written by one of my writers, since i had been away all day. okey?

Hey,
listen, give me a detailed info on what you want done. That's why it was hard to follow the instructions. Communication is also a factor to be considered. Reply my emails in time. I look forward to doing this assignment. Best Regards, Antony.

I had explained to you exactly what I wanted:

Find differences in male and female characters and interactions within Titanic and Avatar and use biological theories in sex differences to explain the differences within the movie characters.

I didn't read anything about biological differences. You also introduced social sciences into the project and that is something I did not request. I don't care who wrote it, you clearly didn't write it to my standards. So I am passing on your services.

Send me a new version following the prompt and instructions I gave you with citations to biological theories that address male and female differences and maybe this will work.
